New Friends Publishing, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 124 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Not your average detective novel, Who Killed Newsboy Clemmons? is part mystery, part chronicle, and part philosophical exposition—a humorous-yet-introspective look at the colorful world of its hero, John Stick LeMaster, PI. A former baseball star whose All-American career was cut short by a drunk driver, LeMaster has stockpiled wisdom the hard way, thanks to a stint in the Marines, several years as a private investigator, and a short-lived marriage that has left him hopelessly in love with a woman he can't save, much less have. The story opens with LeMaster, in his late thirties and fresh off a trip to the Far East, discovering the dead body of Jimmy Newsboy Clemmons amongst the baggage in an airport carousel. The gruesome sight is one LeMaster won't forget anytime soon: Newsboy's killers propped his eyelids open with toothpicks, decorated his chest with a machete, and left a Post-it note especially for the PI. Welcome home, Stick, the note reads. This one's for you. Newsboy, a friend and former grifter and bookie turned community organizer, had been instrumental in turning around the Torch, his inner-city neighborhood. As LeMaster searches for clues, the detective is forced to walk a tightrope between paranoia and swagger, between past and present, between his personal feelings and his professional duty. A character in his own right, LeMaster is surrounded by outsized one-offs. There's Arnie Red Ruby, a Newsboy contemporary who grew up a grifter before cleaning up his act. There's Eeno Criosci, aka Nikki the Mad Romanian, a staunch anti-Communist who cut his teeth as a freedom fighter in the Solidarity uprisings before emigrating to America. There's...
